IAEVG International Conference General Assembly 2007

*Guidance and Diversity
Research and Applications*

University of Padova, Italy
September 4 - 6, 2007

CALL FOR PAPER

The 2007 IAEVG International Conference is organised by SIO, Italian Society of Vocational Guidance, and by the University of Padova

The focus will be the “Diversity in Relation to Guidance”. Within the framework of this topic attention will be given to theoretical reflection, comparative issues, research models, guidance practice and operative instruments existing in many parts of the world. The main question will be on how to integrate and to handle diversity in educational and vocational guidance.

The themes will be:

- Reality of Diversity: what does diversity mean in relation to guidance, how is diversity defined, how diverse is diversity in an international perspective;
- Challenges for the guidance practice;
- Challenges for the employment systems;
- Diversity and new paradigms in guidance theory development, practice and training.

Conference languages: Italian, English, Spanish, and French in case of enough participants

Call for papers

Any person interested in enriching the conference has two possibilities:

- Paper presentation (individual presentation – 15’);
- Posters (only in the official languages of the conference).

Proposals must be sent by December 1, 2006.

Proposals include: (a) title, (b) name(s) of presenter(s), (c) a 150 word summary.

IAEVG-SVP- NCDA Symposium

Vocational psychology and career guidance practice:
an international partnership
University of Padova, Italy,
3 September 2007

A collaborative pre-conference symposium for the 2007 IAEVG International Conference is organised by the University of Padova together with the International Association for Educational and Vocational Guidance (IAEVG), the Society for Vocational Psychology (an interest group of Division 17 of the APA, USA) and the National Career Development Association (NCDA, USA).

This pre-conference symposium intends to bring together a limited group of academics and practitioners for an exchange of ideas on the role of vocational psychology in career guidance. Scholars and professional practitioners who are among the leaders in academia, professional organisations and public authorities are the prime target of the group.

The enrolment for the symposium is limited. Registrations will be accepted on a first-come-first-served basis with preference given to applications from many different countries and areas of expertise. Applicants can choose to participate as a participant or a presenter.

The symposium is organized around discussion groups on the following themes:

1. Vocational Psychology and new challenges
2. Problems and needs for interdisciplinary interactions in vocational guidance
3. Models for the analysis of individual and group needs
4. Vocational guidance requests within the international scene
5. Procedures, suggestions and instruments for assessment
6. Procedures, suggestions and instruments for intervention
7. Procedures to verify the efficacy of vocational guidance programmes
8. Training of operators

The deadline for proposals is December 31, 2006.

Proposals include: (a) title, name(s) of presenter(s), (b) title of presentation or poster, (c) a 150 word summary, (d) relevance to the symposium themes, (e) an brief CV of the presenter
The cost of the symposium is 80 euro per person.
